

Biannual Conference of BCE 2021

THE BRAIN AND MORALITY

How much morality does the brain allow?

Sts Cyril and Methodius
Faculty of Theology

Sts Cyril and Methodius Faculty of theology,
Palacký University, Univerzitní 22, 779 00 Olomouc

Friday, October 22nd, 2021

From 16.00 Coffee

Public lectures and discussion

17.00-17.10	Welcome
17.10-17.40	Neuroscience and Theological Bioethics: An Interdisciplinary Dialogue Andrea Vicini / School of Theology and Ministry, Boston College
17.40-18.00	Discussion

18.00-18.15 Break

1st Topic unit: How can behaviour be influenced? On the plasticity of the brain
18.15-18.45	Influencing the Human Brain. Ethical Aspects and Social Implications Elisabeth Hildt / Centre for the Study of Ethics, Illinois Institute of Technology
18.45-19.00	Response by Sigrid Müller / Faculty of Catholic Theology, University of Vienna
19.00-19.30	Discussion

20.00 Dinner

Saturday, October 23rd, 2021

From 08.00 Breakfast

Public lectures and discussion

2nd Topic unit: What limits does the brain set for the ability to act morally?
09.00-09.30	What can neurosciences tell? Brain injuries and their impact on behavior, Petr Hluštík / Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry, Palacký University of Olomouc
09.30-09.45	Response by Angelika Walser / Faculty of Catholic Theology, University of Salzburg
09.45-10.30	Discussion

10.30-11.00 Coffee break

Panel discussion

11.00-12.30	The Brain, Determinism, and Freedom in the Interdisciplinary Discourse Ivo Čermák / Faculty of Social Studies, Masaryk University Borut Škodlar / Faculty of Medicine, University of Ljubljana, Walter Schaupp / Faculty of Catholic Theology, University of Graz
-------------	--

13.00 Lunch

BCE-internal part

15.00-16.40	Presentation of research projects
16.40-17.00	Break
17.00-17.30	General assembly

17.30-18.00 Break

18.00	Holy Mass
19.00	Dinner